

Our list focuses on restaurants in the Downtown Athens, Five Points, and Baxter Street areas. Downtown listings include Prince Avenue locations. There are numerous places to eat at most price points. Local favorites are marked with an asterisk. There are many other good and fun places to eat, but they are not listed because they are not as easy to get to.

Also included is a section on food delivery services, so you can order in advance and have them deliver to the Georgia Center to eat in your room or outside. Nearby grocery stores have been included. National restaurant chains are not included unless they originated here or their headquarters are here like Zaxby's, Your Pie, and Barberitos Southwestern Grille or local chain, Grindhouse Burgers, which started at the Sweet Auburn Curb Market in Atlanta.

Many of the restaurants listed source local ingredients and/or organic ingredients whenever possible and serve beer from our local breweries, Terrapin and Creature Comforts. There are lots of great Mexican and other ethnic restaurants. A number of the restaurants are in old buildings with hard surfaces so they are noisy, but the food is worth it.

Restaurants in the Bottleworks complex on Prince Avenue are marked (BW). Parking for this area is in a free surface lot behind the Bottleworks on the corner of Meigs and Newton Streets. Park in that lot only if you are going to a Bottleworks business.

All distances listed are for the most direct route from the Georgia Center. Information was reviewed July 2019.
